

Conjunctions (and, or, but)

Practise using and, or, but to join parts of sentences

i Sometimes sentences contain more than one idea. These ideas are connected by a joining word called a conjunction. Often this joining word will be one of these: and, or, but. Each works in a slightly different way.

A

Complete these sentences, remembering to put a full stop at the end of each:

He loves football but .....

You can have ice cream or .....

I put on my gloves and .....

B

Draw arrows to join these sentence parts:

Sue likes cheese

or he can go home.

We opened the box

and she doesn't like pizza.

Joe can stay here

but looked inside.

SPaG PRACTICE

Which word completes this sentence?

I wanted to stay up late ..... my mum wouldn't let me.

and ☐

or ☐

but ☐

Write a sentence about two things that you like or don't like to eat. Use a conjunction in your sentence.

.....

.....

.....

CHALLENGE
Think • Talk • Write

