Times Tables Rock Stars

In order to support children in practising their times tables, every child has a log in to TTRS. It is appropriate for children from Year 2 onwards and is really engaging. Children can practice by themselves or in competition with others in school or even worldwide in a completely safe environment. No personal data is shared as they each have their own rock star name. As the darker nights set in, this is an ideal time to brush up on this essential skill.
